The Way of the Ninja

A story about being quiet, patient, strong, kind and brave

The Way of the Ninja

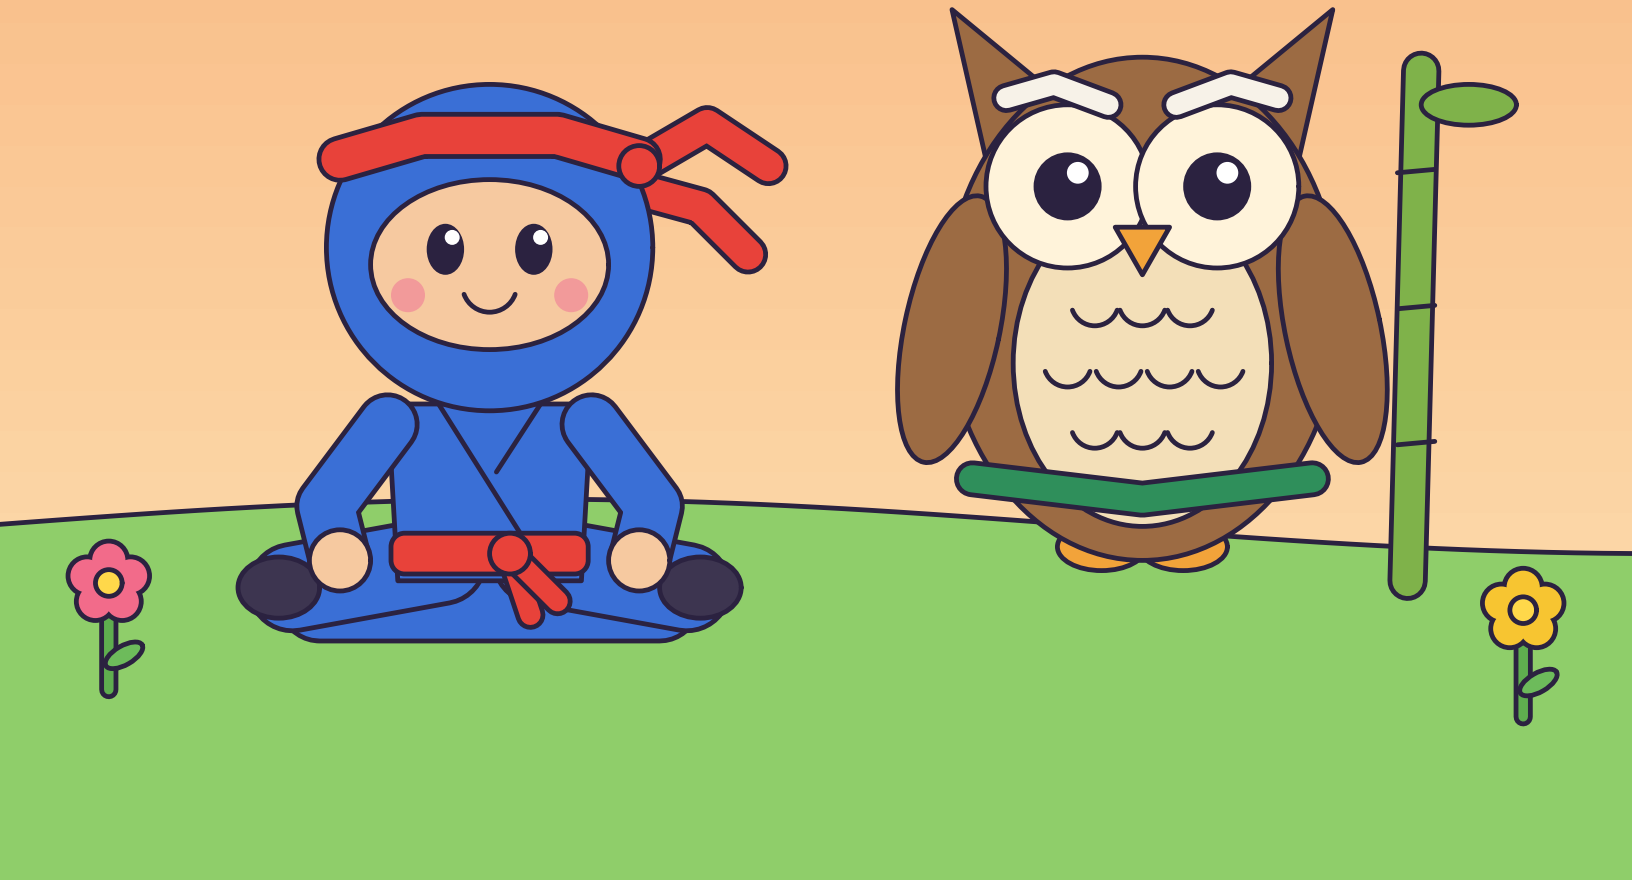

For brave little ninjas, ages 3 and up

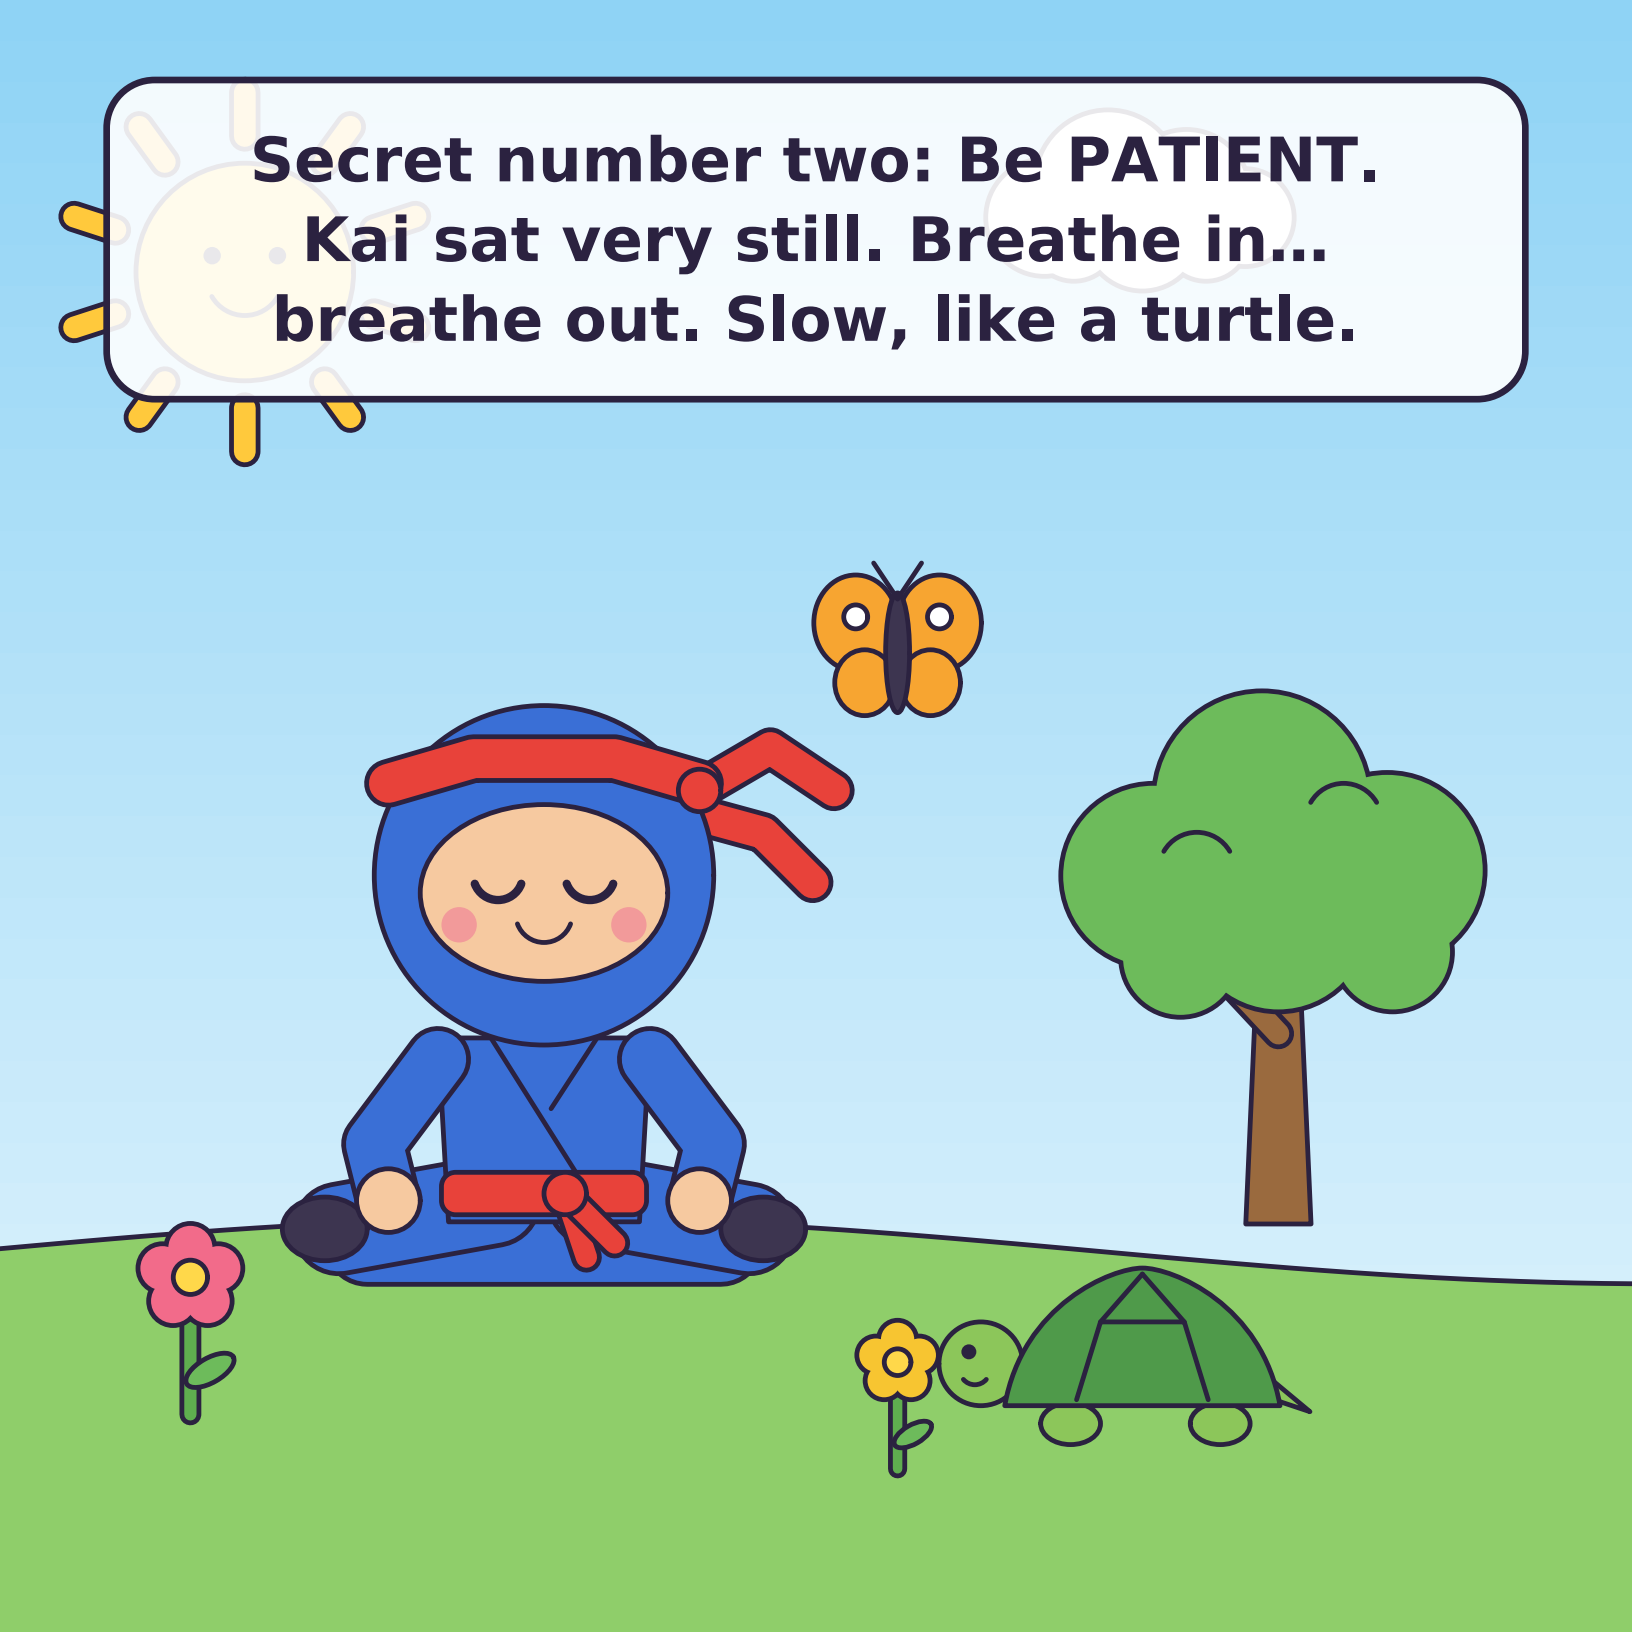

In a little village by the big mountains lived a little ninja named Kai.

Kai wanted to be a GREAT ninja. So Kai bowed to Sensei Owl and asked, “Will you teach me?”

“The Way of the Ninja has five secrets,” said Sensei Owl. “Let’s learn them one by one.”

Secret number one: Be QUIET.
Kai tiptoed past sleepy Pip. Tip… tip… toe. Shhh!

Secret number two: Be PATIENT.
Kai sat very still. Breathe in…
breathe out. Slow, like a turtle.

Secret number three: Be STRONG.
Kai stood on one foot like a crane.
Miko practiced her kicks. Hi-YA!

Secret number four: Be KIND.
Oh no! Pip was stuck up in a tree. Kai reached up and helped Pip down.

Secret number five: Be BRAVE. The bridge was wobbly. Kai felt scared… but took one step, then another!

One stormy night, Kai heard a tiny “peep!” A little bird was lost. Kai stayed calm and held up a light.

Kai gently carried the bird home to its nest. “Hooray!” cheered Miko. The bird family sang a happy song.

“You found the Way of the Ninja,” said Sensei Owl. “A true ninja has a BIG, kind heart.”

Goodnight, little ninja. Goodnight, Pip. Tomorrow, the Ninja Way begins again.
